Title slide: the talk's claim or question as its title

Venue · date

Authors with affiliation marks[1] [2]

[1] University · [2] Lab

A story title states the takeaway in one sentence

- Semibold lead-in: then the point in a few words
- Three or four bullets: about 40 words per slide at most
- Sources: a superscript number here[1], the reference in the footnote

[1] Author et al. (2025), Venue.

The research question gets its own slide, by slide 3

The question, stated precisely in one or two sentences, on the card

Contribution: what this work adds that prior work does not.

Methods and discussion split into two labeled columns

Design

- Data: what and how much
- Method: only what the audience needs

Outcomes

- Primary: the main measure
- Secondary: supporting measures

Full details: Appendix A

Results: the finding in the title, the figure as evidence

- The figure keeps its aspect ratio
- Points add what the figure can't show
- One finding per slide

Figure: example data.

Part 2

Section name

References

Author, A., et al. (2025). Title of the paper. Venue.

Author, B., and Author, C. (2024). Title of the paper. arXiv:0000.00000.

Title Only: draw anything below the title